The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The sentence bridging pages 3 and 4 is incomplete. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Hart et al., US 6,395,021 B1. Regarding claim 1 and others, the mesh or interwoven or braided structures are certainly capable of being collapsed under radial compression, whether or not such was the intent, as evident from column 2, lines 42-44 and 51-58; column 8, lines 14-24; column 10, lines 1-4 and 25-29; etc. Regarding claims 2-5 and others: column 7, lines 3-4; column 8, lines 21-24; column 10, lines 7-9 and 15; Figure 26; column 12, lines 54-58; column 13, lines 22-24; column 14, lines 25-29; etc. Regarding claim 15 and others: Figures 38-39; column 11, lines 18-47; etc.
